

New York Downtown Hospital Presents the

Fourth Annual Emergency Preparedness Symposium

Save the Date

Monday, September 18, 2006

The Goldman Sachs Training Center
32 Old Slip in Lower Manhattan, NY

8:30 A.M. – 4:30 P.M.

New York Downtown Hospital Presents the

Fourth Annual Emergency Preparedness Symposium

Monday, September 18, 2006

Symposium Overview: Experts will review topics of readiness and response to large-scale emergencies, such as natural disasters and terrorist attacks.

Presentations: Avian Flu; Disaster Triage; Hurricane Katrina & The Lessons Not Learned.

Panel discussion: In the Shadow of 9/11 – Where Are We Now?

Breakout sessions: Performance Metrics for Emergency Preparedness; Incident Command System – A Primer; Crisis Communications & The Media.

This program is accredited by New York Downtown Hospital for Continuing Medical Education Category 1 Credits.

Who Should Attend: Physicians, healthcare professionals, and other first responders; emergency/safety and corporate medical unit personnel; government and community representatives

Details to follow. For more information or to make a reservation now, please contact Mendez Josephs at (212) 801-1722.

This symposium is offered at no charge through the generous support of The Goldman Sachs Group, Inc.

New York Downtown Hospital
Development and Public Affairs
59 Maiden Lane, 6th Floor
New York, NY 10038

Save the Date: Monday, September 18, 2006